G 75

GRADUATE EDUCATION STUDENT ASSISTANCE INFORMATION

Now Available
TOLL-FREE
at
800-333-INFO
9:00 a.m. - 5:30 p.m. EST
Monday - Friday

STUDENT AID INFORMATION CENTER
U.S. Department of Education

READEX FICHE best copy available

ED 1.2:

Now you can call toll-free to get updated information on the following graduate education programs:

- Jacob K. Javits Fellows Program
  (For the Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences)
- Minority Participation in Graduate Education
  (For scholarly studies and research to prepare for graduate studies)
- Ronald E. McNair Post-Baccalaureate Achievement Program
  (For low-income, first generation students and those underrepresented in doctoral studies)
- Patricia Roberts Harris Fellowships for Graduate and Professional Study
  (For minorities, women, and underrepresented groups for master's degrees and doctoral studies)
- Patricia Roberts Harris Fellowships in Public Service
  (For minorities, women, and underrepresented groups for careers in public service)
- Graduate Assistance in Areas of National Need
  (For teaching and research in areas of the sciences and technology)
- Law School Clinical Experience Program
  (For assistance to law schools for programs of clinical experience)
- Legal Training for the Disadvantaged
  (For opportunities for disadvantaged groups to study and practice law)

The Federal Student Aid Assistance Center provides information on:

- Purposes of the programs
- Program priorities
- Program stipends (if any)
- Who is eligible to apply
- Application deadlines (for schools or individuals)
- Names of schools that participate in the programs
- Names and phone numbers of contact persons at each funded school

The Center also maintains a mailing list of persons or institutions who wish to receive program applications

MAILING PUBLICATIONS

Upon request, the Information Center will mail to you a publication from the Office of Higher Education Program Services that details information on the graduate education programs that it administers. This publication also contains a listing of schools nationwide that are currently funded for the programs.

The Center does not provide technical information services on application procedures and program operations.